

RACE RIOTS STIR CHICAGO'S BLACK BELT, 2 DROWNED

Trouble Started at the Twenty-Ninth Street Beach Where Blacks and Whites are Segregated

Strike Riot in Southwest Side Results in 1 Killed and 1 Wounded

Chicago, July 28.—One man was shot and killed and another seriously wounded tonight in a strike riot on the Southwest side of the city. The shooting, according to the police, was the result of trouble between strikers at the Crane company's plant and others, supposedly non-strikers.

Chicago, July 28.—Serious rioting of whites and blacks in the negro district of Chicago broke out this afternoon and before midnight two men were dead, according to the police reports, both drowned, two negroes probably fatally wounded, and more than a score, possibly fifty, persons, both blacks and whites, wounded or injured by bullets, stones, clubs and other missiles, fifty or more arrests were made and every available protection was rushed to the black belt.

Races Segregated
The trouble started at the Twenty-ninth street beach, where whites and blacks are segregated, spread along twenty-ninth street to State street, a distance of nearly a mile and along the latter, the main thoroughfare in the heart of the negro district, which extends about five miles. The shooting started near the beach.

Although ill-feeling between whites and blacks on the south side has extended over a period of months emphasized by bomb explosions, some shooting and numerous fights, today's riots seem to have had their start in petty quarreling at the beach. Although several reasons were assigned, the police were unable to determine what actually started the disorders.

Invade White Section
Reports that negroes wandered across the dividing line to the white section of the beach and that whites amused themselves by throwing small stones at some of the negro bathers, particularly on a raft, appeared the most plausible cause. Soon after the fighting started a negro fled, pursued by a number of the whites.

A policeman rushed out of a house and joined the pursuit. The negro took shelter behind a building and began shooting at the policeman, who returned the fire. The negro then surrendered.

The fighting soon had Twenty-ninth street packed with whites and blacks, the latter predominating.

Fire Breaks Out
A fire broke out in a small building in the neighborhood and fire apparatus was blocked by the throngs, negroes are said to have attempted to drag the firemen from their seats. Further fighting ensued.

Along State street, particularly on the thirty-first, the very heart of the black belt, and at Thirty-fifth street, white men were frequently attacked and beaten on State street, the police said.

At the beach while missiles were flying, the negro on a raft was reported to have been struck by a rock and hurled into the lake. Later the body of a negro was taken from the water.

A white man, a swimmer, also was reported hit and drowned. Several hours later only the negroes' body had been recovered, although search of the lake was continuing.

With the police station emptied of reserves and scores of others rushed from north and west side stations, Acting Chief of Police Alcock ordered every available policeman on duty to prevent further outbreaks.

Negroes Flood Chicago
Negroes flocked to Chicago, especially from the south, during the height of war industrial activities here. Many of them received high wages for the first time in their lives. The question of housing them was a problem.

The negro district had been steadily expanding for several years. Their encroachments on white neighborhoods caused considerable trouble but the present year has seen racial misunderstandings grow. Fights and shootings have been frequent, but attended with few fatalities.

ST. IGNATIUS, MONTANA, IS RAZED BY FIRE

Montana, Idaho Fire Situation Reaches Critical Stage--U. S. Appealed To.

Missoula Shrouded in Smoke— Forest Fighters Driven Back by Intense Heat.

Missoula, Mont., July 27.—With one Montana town practically wiped out by a forest fire, several other periled and 18 new fires reported, the Montana state council of defense tonight appealed for federal aid to check the flames which were declared to be getting beyond the control of hundreds of firefighters.

Only a bank, store and hotel were left standing in St. Ignatius after the flames had swept the town. They were only saved after being literally flooded with water.

70 Men Trapped, Escape.

A crew of nearly 70 men, fighting the fire in the Nez Perce forest, narrowly escaped death when they were trapped by flames. They saved themselves by leaping into a small stream where they stood in the water up to their necks until the fire had passed.

The men were trapped from behind. They had been fighting a fire in the Salmon mountain region when the Selway fire worked in behind them, trapping them between two fires.

Saddles Burned From Horses.

They had no chance to escape except by jumping into the stream. They lost all their equipment. One of their horses was burned and several others were badly injured, the saddles being burned from the horses backs.

A stream from a big United States irrigation ditch was turned into the streets of St. Ignatius, affording the firefighters the material to fight the flames, and save the three buildings. St. Ignatius is in the heart of the Flathead national forest. It is 40 miles north of Missoula.

Thousands of Acres Burned Over

Millions of feet of lumber have been destroyed by the forest fires and thousands of acres of timber land are a smoldering waste.

Forest rangers who have been working long shifts combatting the flames for more than a week, were on the verge of exhaustion tonight. The forest service reported that the labor situation is serious. One hundred and fifty fire fighters reached here tonight.

The 18 fires reported today include 12 in the Clearwater forest, Idaho, and three each in the Missoula and Lolo forests. Critical as has been the situation in the last few days in the district, the officials here now are even more alarmed.

The city of Missoula itself is shrouded in smoke, to the extent that even the nearby mountains, Jumbo and Sentinel, are but dimly visible from the streets of the business section through the haze.

President Confers Today With Minn- esota Solon

While he is on the road the president will keep in close touch with Washington, and at the same time will be in a position to advise the leaders.

The president will see several democratic senators today. Senator Thomas of Colorado, Senator Smith of Arizona and Senator Johnson of South Dakota. He also had a conference scheduled with six representatives, including Representative Halvor Steenerson of Crookston, Minnesota.

Bootlegging by Air Feared With "Wet" Nations Around U. S.

Washington, D. C., July 28.—With a "wet" Mexico to the south and the possibility of a "wet" Canada to the north, to say nothing of Cuba and other islands within easy flying distance, one of the greatest difficulties that Uncle Sam is likely to be up against in the enforcement of the federal prohibition laws will be the air "bootlegger." With the vast extent of the country to be policed the chances of the air smuggler being caught would not be very great.

Considerable quantities of liquor might easily be stowed away on the ordinary airplane. The tires of the machine's wheels, for example, are hollow, many of the main parts, like the struts joining the planes, are hollow, while some of the gasoline tanks might also be utilized to carry the contraband liquors.

To make a thorough examination of each airplane would be an almost impossible task.

Coming from Mexico or Cuba, a machine might easily travel several hundred miles into the interior of the United States, land at some agreed spot at night, unload its cargo of liquors and fly back to its headquarters. Or it might easily be possible to drop its packages by parachute.

President Prefers That the Mikado Turn on the Light of Publicity

Washington, July 28.—From administration sources it was learned tonight that President Wilson has directed the state department to request Japan, through its charge "affaires here, to make public all documents and proceedings, including verbal agreements, relating to the Shantung settlement.

In case Japan fails to comply with Mr. Wilson's request in a reasonable time the intention is for this government to make public the information.

Japan Holds Key

If this information is given to the American public and to China the President believes the latter will be satisfied and the former convinced that the settlement was not so iniquitous as it has been pictured.

The President feels that Japan holds the key to the situation. He prefers that the Mikado turn on the light of publicity. While anxious to avoid offending Japan, he is said to hold it of a great deal more importance that the American public, and consequently the senate, be set right. For this reason he is prepared to act in case his friendly request is denied.

The foreign relations committee expect to complete its preliminary reading of the peace treaty tomorrow. After disposing of the Colombian treaty, the committee plans to hear one or two of the experts who assisted the American peace delegation at Paris.

To Defend Roosevelt.

If there is anything in the Colombian treaty slurring the late Colonel Roosevelt or even intimating that the United States stole the Panama canal zone, Senator Kellogg of Minnesota said today he will oppose ratification. He will demand that the senate consider the treaty in open session.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the foreign relations committee, has just announced that he will bring up the treaty and press it until ratified. The administration, he made it known, is very anxious for immediate action even though it delays consideration of league of nations and the Versailles treaty.

Theft Charge in 1917.

In the spring of 1917, President Wilson urged ratification of the treaty negotiated about that time which would have apologized to Colombia for the methods used by Colonel Roosevelt when president in getting the Panama canal rights. It admitted virtual theft and provided for payment of $25,000,000 to Colombia as damages.

The administration was notified that no treaty which slurred Colonel Roosevelt would be ratified. Secretary of State Lansing finally was induced to invite Senator Lodge to suggest changes in the treaty that would make the pact acceptable to friends of the colonel.

It is understood the present treaty follows closely the suggestions made by Senator Lodge and that it is entirely satisfactory to the senator, who was one of Colonel Roosevelt's closest friends. The apology was stricken from the treaty, it is said, but the payment of $25,000,000 still is provided.

Text is Kept Secret.

The text of the treaty, however, is being kept secret in conformity with the old methods in diplomatic procedure. Senator Kellogg, on learning that the treaty is coming before the committee next week, sought to get a copy and learned that the only one available at the capital is a "confidential print" in the hands of the foreign relations committee.

The senator did not accept this copy, as it is his purpose to make a speech on the subject in open session and he does not want to be bound by any confidence imposed in taking secret information.

Taking a Plebiscite.
Plebiscite is a political term borrowed from the French, meaning a vote of all the electors in a country taken on some specific question. It is from the Latin plebiscitum, a decree of the plebs, or law made by the common people, and is somewhat similar to the referendum. A notable example of the use of the plebiscite in French history was in 1852, when the memorable coup d'etat of 1851 was confirmed and the title of emperor was given to Napoleon III.

Instructing Grandpa.
"I was talking to my little granddaughter over the telephone the other day," said an old man recently to a few of his friends at a hotel, "and when I ended I said, 'Here, Dorothy, is a kiss for you.' 'It's not felt, grandpa,' she said."—Blighty (London).

Good Rules for Life's Conduct.
Those that are perfect men do not easily give credit to everything one tells them; for they know that human frailty is prone to evil, and very subject to fall inwardly. It is great wisdom not to be rash in thy proceedings, not to stand stiffly in thine own conceits; as also not to believe everything which thou hearest, nor presently to relate again to others what thou hast heard or dost believe.

Exercised Discretion.
Richard, on his first visit to the country, climbed the fence into the field where a Jersey cow was grazing. The cow, being somewhat of a pet, greeted him with a loud and joyous moo, whereupon Richard beat a hasty and disorderly retreat. "No, I wasn't edackly afraid," he explained; "but when she kept saying, 'Move, move!' I thought I'd better keep a-movin'!"

Women Must Tell Age

Los Angeles—Judge F. H. Taft of the superior court has ruled that hereafter when women are asked their ages in his court they must not say "I'm over 21," but will be required to give the exact years. "The witnesses must answer the questions," said Judge Taft. "I can see no reason why anyone should object to telling their age."

POSIES FOR HATS

Summer Headgear Trimmed With Flowers and Fruits.

Lilacs, Wistaria, Lilies and Green House Products Are Used—Feathers Popular.

The old-fashioned flower-laden hat in leghorn and in horsehair straw has come back to us from out of the past, and, true to type, it is trimmed with collections of flowers in striking combinations of vivid colors. White and purple lilacs are used with sprays of wistaria, and large flowers, such as tiger lilies, pond lilies and even callas are used on the larger shapes, says Vogue. The flower-covered crown is particularly adapted to the young girl. For instance, a hat of a delicate lavender horsehair straw which shines like silver in the sunlight, has a crown of old-fashioned pinks. For the older woman, black lace is shown for mid-summer—not, as one might think, in an all-lace hat, but as a softening for the harshness of white leghorn. It also is used to veil the colored flowers of the large summer hat that is stiff in line, rather than the floppy one for the young girl.

Odd materials are making their appearance in the midsummer hats. Corn husks that have been dried in the sun and hand painted make an ideal turban. They are light and, when woven together, are fashioned into a most durable hat. Softly draped turbans and brim hats, either mushroom in shape or with turned brims, are shown in shaggy felts or in long-haired silk duvety.

Feather hats will undoubtedly be seen throughout the summer. The uncurled ostrich feathers are, perhaps, most frequently used. Glycerine ostrich and ostrich tips are used on the large summer hats. For instance, in a large shape of thin straw in lemon yellow, four tips in different colors entirely cover the crown, while the spines of these feathers are painted in a vivid color. An orchid colored tip may have a vivid green spine, while a French blue tip may have a cerise spine. Tappe, as another novelty, is making a number of smart hats with wreaths of fruit—lemons, oranges, cherries, grapes and other hothouse products. One of the smart-

BLOUSE SLIPS OVER HEAD

Late Paris Arrival Has Round Neck Opening and Fastens Along One Shoulder.

Something very new and quite the latest thing in Paris is a blouse that has a round neck opening and slips over the head, fastening along one shoulder. The sleeves are cut kimono style, in one with the garment, and reach midway between shoulder and elbow. There is no fit to the blouse, which hangs in straight, soft lines from neck to hip, a knotted silk cord or narrow sash holding in the material at a low waistline. A most artistic and picturesque blouse is "la casaque" and ideally comfortable for lounging about the house, but it rather lacks the formality as an away-from-home garment, although in Paris these loose blouses, almost without sleeves, are seen everywhere—in the street, at the restaurants and on the tennis courts. Sometimes the material is soft silk crepe, sometimes chiffon is used, and outing blouses in la casaque style are of thin, white tub silk or satin, with hemstitching around.

Calico an Aristocrat Now.

Calico is now in the aristocratic class of garment fabrics, being raised from the plebeian ranks just as gingham was two years ago. Fabric that would have gone into work aprons for our grandmothers is now to be combined with white organdie for smart summer dresses. English print is hard to obtain this season.

Short-Sleeved Summer Gowns.

Youthful style dresses of gingham, voile, organdie and calico have sleeves ending just above the elbow, medium in width and finished with turn-back cuffs. These styles of course mean long gloves.

World's Largest Crater.

Daily Thought.

Every man is like the company he is wont to keep.—Euripides.

Broad Brimmed Leghorn Hat.

est and most striking examples of new trimming is the use of Scotch thistle on a lace straw of large dimensions. And for the welcome of the Rainbow division, one designer especially created a lovely hat in flesh color trimmed all over the brim with clusters of heads of wheat in all the delicate shades of the rainbow.

Birds and Flowers.

It has been estimated that there are 2,000 varieties of wild flowers growing in the Rocky Mountain National park, and more than 1,000 species of birds building their homes in the fir, aspens, spruces and willows of that section. Even the tiny humming bird and the forget-me-nots find life easy on the summit of Pike's peak. Some of the other flowers are the fringed gentians, columbine, buttercups and daisies and delicate pinks.

Sex Differences.

When it is a man getting a set of false teeth, he is afraid he is not going to be able to eat with them; if it is a woman, she is afraid she will not be able to talk.—Houston Post.

ELEMENT OF AGE IN BUSINESS.

The Wall Street Journal has taken a mass of statistics and extracted the following information on the element of age in business and it is enough to set any man thinking. The remedy is life insurance and savings stamps and banking your savings. Each one of the three remedies suggested will help some.

Age 20 is described as the egotistical age with everything to gain and nothing to lose. In that age of dreams the son thinks he knows more than father. It is an age of wild oats for many.

From 30 to 50 comes the "now or never" period with the danger line at 40. That space represents man's accumulating period. Either success or failure is settled. No days of grace are allowed.

At age 30 the boy is now changing his mind and concludes he doesn't know as much as he imagined. He now considers his father a man of fair intelligence.

At age 35 the son realizes that life is a reality and he is not as smart as he once thought. The father was a man of excellent judgment.

At 45, 16 per cent who started the race are dead; 65 per cent are self-supporting; 15 percent are dependent wholly or in part; only 4 percent have accumulated anything—and kept it.

From 50 to 65 comes the age of caution, as a man must not speculate, for he has all to lose and nothing to gain. He looks for security, not high rates of interest.

At 65, 85 percent of the men still living are dependent on children, relatives or charity.

After 50 not one man in a hundred can recover his financial footing.

GERMAN IN THE SCHOOLS

(New York Evening Post)

Seven state legislatures have passed laws this year against the use of German or other foreign tongues in elementary schools. A summary is published in the American-Scandinavian Review. In 17 other states such bills were considered, and in some the issue is not yet decided. In Pennsylvania a haphazard enactment, which would have shut German out of even normal schools, was properly vetoed; while in California the defeat of another unreasonable bill was followed by a ruling by the state board prohibiting German in all public schools but leaving it untouched in private schools and universities. It is noteworthy that the middle western states, despite their strong German-American population, have led in such lawmaking; Indiana, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, South Dakota and Oklahoma are the list. The laws demand at the utmost that the sole medium of instruction shall be English, and that no foreign tongue shall be taught till the child has passed the eighth grade. None but Indiana restricts high school teachers of foreign languages, and religious instruction in them seems generally permitted. The writer in the Review opposes "dictation" of what private and parochial schools shall teach, but most Americans will be unable to see why they should not be put on the same basis as public schools, in the matter of English.

TOMATOES, ETC.

It is admitted that tomatoes should be cheaper in the Twin Cities than in Duluth. They are the center of a well developed market garden district. But tomatoes this week have been 15 cents a pound there and 25 cents here. Is this difference warranted?

To add to this "long green cucumber" are quoted there for 5 cents each, here they are 15 cents, having just dropped from 17 cents. But the Twin Cities do not raise lemons save of the human variety, yet "lemons large size" are 25 cents a dozen there and 50 cents here. Why? Bartlett pears are there 40 cents a basket; here they are 50 cents a dozen and pears are not a Twin City crop. These are all retail prices.—Duluth Tribune.

Division of Samoan Islands.

By the agreement of December 2, 1899, among the United States, Great Britain and Germany, the Samoan Islands were divided between the United States and Germany. Great Britain retiring and accepting compensation for her retirement in the form of colonial concessions elsewhere in the world. This agreement ended a long series of outbreaks and disorder in the islands amounting to a state of civil war, due, it was charged at the time, to the intrigue and aggression of the Germans.

REUNITED AFTER 25 YEARS

Father and Daughters Brought Together by Advertisement.

Believed dead for 25 years, H. D. Ferguson returned to Wichita, Kan., and was reunited with two of his daughters. The reunion was made possible by a newspaper advertisement in which the aged father sought to know the whereabouts of his daughters.

When one of the daughters went to the address given in the advertisement, she met an elderly man, who produced a worn photograph of the family taken a quarter of a century ago. A happy reunion followed.

The Jews in Russia

By FRANK J. TAYLOR

(Staff Correspondent, United Press)

New York, July 28.—Bolshevism is not a revolution by the Russian Jews for the Russian Jews, as is popularly believed, according to the bolsheviks. Investigating the way the Jews line up with regard to bolshevism leads to the conclusion that three-fourths of the Jews are against bolshevism.

This stand on the part of the majority of Jews is probably due to the fact that the Jews have been the heaviest losers among the little bourgeoisie of Russia. This is especially true of the small cities. In the provincial districts most of the Jews were buyers and sellers and had gathered together small fortunes, usually from five to twenty-five thousand rubles. Today that sum is nothing, but in the old days it represented quite an amount, comparatively speaking enough to enable operation of a small business.

Generally the Jewish merchant lost this fortune through confiscations of stocks in stores, or of warehouses of wool and cotton and grains. It was the Jew who lost heaviest because he had most. While fortunes of merchants were taken confiscation was not attempted with the peasant, who was regarded as a producer.

A typical case was called to the attention of the correspondent while he was interviewing the chief of the economic soviet in Moscow. Two Jews from the provinces reached Moscow and immediately put their case before the soviet for decision. They had been sent by the merchants of their village, almost all Jews, all of whom were required to give up wool and other goods they had invested in at a price set by the government. The peasants, on the other hand, were allowed to sell at a competitive price.

What the result of the protest was, the correspondent could not learn, since it had to be passed along to several soviets, and numerous yards of red tape had to be unwound before the matter could be solved. Probably the goods were confiscated before the decision could be altered.

Similarly in all towns Jews have run the small shops which have been closed by the bolsheviks. The Jews were the ones who lost their means of support, and had to go to work at new prices. The Jewish rabbis have been against bolshevism from the beginning and have exercised a great influence over their people.

On the other hand, it is true that a large percentage of Jewish intellectuals, mostly men who have been the victims of the old government, have become leaders in the bolshevik movement.

This has been explained by the fact that under the old regime Jews were prevented from entering certain other lines of activity by laws which discriminated against the Hebrews. The Jews naturally took to intellectual pursuits and became writers, lawyers, and thinkers. They welcomed any system which would guarantee them an equal opportunity. These intellectuals quickly adjusted themselves to the bolshevik ideas, and owing to their keenness and energy, many came out on top in the new government.

That the majority of bolsheviks are Jews is not true, it is evident. Probably they have a larger percentage of representation in governmental positions than the Gentiles, but every effort is made by the soviet government to prevent the issue from arising.

The bolsheviks are trying to prevent discrimination from being made against the Jews, and have succeeded remarkably well. The principal Jewish problem seems to be along the borders, where the armies are fighting. There the reported "pogroms" are causing bitter feeling. According to the bolsheviks, the "pogroms," resulting in the massacre of entire villages, are confined to the anti-bolshevik side of the line. The worst Jewish "pogroms" have been in the south, mostly in the Ukraine. Many villages of Jews have been wiped out, according to the best information available.

MARSHAL FOCH'S REPORT ON BOUNDARY ACCEPTED

Paris, July 28.—The supreme council has accepted Marshal Foch's report on the boundary between the Poles and the Lithuanians whereby the Poles shall move into Suwalki and withdraw to a line running north-east from Suwalki. The request from the Karelians to be heard has been referred to the Baltic commission. The economic clauses of the Bulgarian treaty have been referred to the economic committee with instructions to report back Monday.

The Test That Tells

There is only one real test for a cough remedy, and that is use. S. M. Oliver, Box 192 R. P. D. 5, Greensboro, S. C., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is just fine. IOWA CANTONMENTS SCENES OF SALVATION ARMY ACTIVITIES.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 11.—Des Moines is now the center of Salvation Army activities on behalf of the soldiers. A new club and hotel has just been completed near the Union depot. It is crowded day and night to capacity and additional floor is being added to take care of the overflow.

The Emergency Home for Girls materially assists the federal authorities who are responsible for the morals of the girls who are attracted to Des Moines by the thousands of soldiers stationed at Camp Dodge.

Under command of Adjt. Lucy Bushnell and Captain Rodda, Salvation Army lassies daily visit the hospital wards giving away apples and oranges and securing for the wounded whatever they request in the way of toilet articles, refreshments or dainties. They also write letters and see that messages are sent home.

The military authorities at Fort Des Moines have also given the Salvation Army the use of a building for a hut inside the grounds at the fort and already the necessary furniture has been installed, the kitchen equipment put in place and Salvation Army lassies are handing out delicious home-made pie, doughnuts, coffee and other goodies to the ever hungry doughboys.

SALVATION ARMY WORKERS GIVE KOREAN BEGGARS THEIR FIRST BATHS.

Seoul, France, April 11.—Members of the Salvation Army invaded Seoul this month and proceeded to give the beggar boys of this city their first lesson in cleanliness. They opened a temporary home or shelter and then went out into the highways and byways and began to gather in the youngsters of whom there are quite a large number. On the first night 20 were brought into the shelter. First they were treated to a haircut, then a good hot bath, during which time their old clothing, with all its company, was being destroyed by fire. What a slaughter! The boys were then dressed in clothes given by some kind friends for this purpose, and housed in a nice warm room where they are being fed and slept. During the day they are taught to read and write, and also put to some manual labor, such as wood-chopping, rope-making, etc. Friends of the Salvation Army have supported the effort as regards finances and clothing.

SOLDIERS SHOWER MONEY ON SALVATION ARMY LASSIES.

New York, April 11.—Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army witnessed a scene in the Madison Square Garden last night that brought tears to her eyes. When she had completed a speech telling of the work of her organization in France hundreds of men and women crowded to the platform and tossed coins and bills upon it.

The big hall was filled to capacity and it seemed to those on the rostrum that thousands of cheering people were trying to reach the commander. No one knew what it meant until quarters and halves, then bills began to fly through the air. Over $1,700 was donated and more would have been received had the crowd been able to get to the front.

"It is remarkable and so wonderful," said the commander.

The Salvation Army, in New York at least, has come into its own.

GIVE LIBERTY BONDS TO S. A.

San Francisco, April 11.—Sailors at the Mare Island navy yard got word that the Salvation Army contemplated establishing a naval home at Vallejo and decided to help. They notified Captain Hutchinson of the Vallejo corps that they were coming to see her. After services had commenced six sailors marched into the hall single file, came forward and sat down on the front seat. There they sat until the service was finished, when they approached the officer and the spokesman explained that the boys over in the yard, upon hearing of the Army's desire to start a naval home, had contributed Liberty bonds to the amount of $750,000 and had appointed them a committee to present these bonds to the captain as the first contribution to the home.

Noted for Its Tobacco.

Much of the wealth of Virginia and of her capital has always been based on the lure of the Virginia weed. In November, 1918, a tobacco warehouse covering 60,000 square feet of space, and said to be the largest in the South, was completed in the prosperous little country town of South Boston, Va., in one of the principal tobacco-growing sections of the old state. At an auction held at this house of opening day 350,000 pounds of leaf tobacco, arranged in 3,500 piles, brought $125,000.

SALVATION ARMY CONTINUES AID TO KHAKI AND BLUE

Splendid Work in France Carried Over to American Camps and Cities.

MILLIONS DEMAND IT

Hotels, Relief Rooms, Dressing Stations and First-Aid to Be Given.

From coast to coast, wherever cantonments have been established or soldiers congregate the Salvation Army has taken up the burden of caring for the boys who wear the khaki and blue. This work has developed to such an extent it now bids fair to surpass in size and importance the labor so admirably performed in the trenches of France.

The Salvationists start this new work as soon as they see the smoke rising from the funnels of the transports as they near the harbors on the Atlantic. Tugs are chartered and leave the docks carrying Salvation Army workers, doughnuts, chocolate, raisins, figs and other good dainties, newspapers and magazines. These are distributed free.

When the troops land the lassies follow them up caring for their slightest needs and continue to watch over them until they entrain for their cantonments. There they are again met and again supplied with food and dainties.

Special Attention to Wounded.

Special attention is paid to the wounded and all trains carrying them are met wherever they stop. Bandages are furnished and wounds are dressed. Letters are written. Messages are sent. No matter how trivial the demand may be the lassies endeavor to meet it. The task is looked upon as a work of love and the boys welcome the attention given them as they have welcomed their other form of relief.

In New York, Boston, Charleston, Baltimore and the larger cities and junction points West, hotels have been opened up. In the cantonment cities hundreds are in operation. In fact, no soldier need wait for assistance if he will but ask. Even the relatives of the boys can, and do, receive aid.

Relief Stations in Big Cities.

The work just started revolves around the relief stations and hotels which are located in the following cities: New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Charleston, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Des Moines, Junction City, Kansas City, St. Paul, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Dallas, Denver, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

It has been impossible to build houses and get them ready in time so stores, hotels, warehouses and homes have been rented and renovated. In New York the largest of the hotels is one accommodating 1,000 men and costing over $500,000.

In Chicago the Salvation Army took over an old hotel on the corner of Lake and Clark streets. In it was placed a buffet kitchen and restaurant where food is served at cost. Large lounging rooms have been furnished and bedrooms refitted. A saloon has also been taken over and made into a restroom. In one of the depots the space which once housed immigrants has been turned into an attractive eating house and restroom, where food is given away and wounds are dressed. In another an extremely dirty storeroom has been changed into a bright, inviting, homey canteen.

It is the intention of the Salvation Army to continue its labors along these lines until after demobilization, and then follow up the boys and their relatives through a permanent department organized for that purpose.

Ruby's Significance.

Marbodens, bishop of Rome, who wrote early in the twelfth century, said that a ruby signifies divine power and love, dignity and royalty. It has always been considered one of the most beautiful gems and the rarest.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Best Theatre Today
 Elsie Ferguson's new Artcraft picture is "The Avalanche," based upon the famous novel of Gertrude Atherton which was recently published and at a bound has won popular favor. The photoplay will be shown at the Best theatre today.

There are numerous dramatic situations in the action and interest is not permitted to lag for an instant. The support is unusually effective, the cast being headed by Lumsden Hare who plays opposite the star. The cast includes Zeffie Tilbury, William Roselle, Fred Esmelton, Grace Field and Warner Oland.

At the Best Theatre Tomorrow

The various "bohemian" quarters, so-called, of the larger cities, notably that included within the precincts of Washington Sq., New York, are productive of many men and women who assume a license in all matters of life that is denied the more retiring element of society, or at least is not given as much publicity. For the artificial bohemian loves to pose, to have his name and his deeds alike blazoned before the world. He must be dining and wining and generally talking that he finds work almost crowded out. Yet he never wearies of telling what he is going to do. And he dearly loves the ideas of the soul mating, affinity seeking type. He is, in short, an unadulterated fraud.

A woman of this type is the dangerous influence which enters the life of the Nicholas Elliot in "Women's Weapons," starring beautiful Ethel Clayton, which will be shown at the Best theatre tomorrow. The role is played with skill by Vera Doria.

Miss Clayton is an admirable opposite to this outie figure. She bests the new type of vampire by use of woman's weapons—those best known to the sex. In other words, she disgusts her temporarily infatuated husband with the poseur and wins him back again. Beulah Marie Dix wrote the story and it was directed by Robert G. Vignola with consummate skill.

BRAINERD CITY BAND AT BIG LAKE

Annual Picnic of General Office
Force of the Northern Pacific Railway Company Held

3,000 PEOPLE ATTENDED

Every Selection the Band Played at Afternoon Concert Was Heartily Applauded

The Brainerd City band played to an appreciative audience at the annual picnic of the Northern Pacific Railway company general office employees of St. Paul at Big Lake and every number was heartily applauded.

William Palmer, former bandmaster and organizer of the Dunwoody naval band of Minneapolis, played solo cornet. He has promised in future to play at several Brainerd concerts.

Concert music was played throughout and the band, under the direction of Richard H. Rehl, gave the best kind of satisfaction and the appreciation was voiced by C. C. Kyle, superintendent of the headquarters building in St. Paul and by other officials.

To be selected as the official band at that picnic was quite an honor for the Brainerd band and they were highly pleased at being so selected.

AVIATION'S SENSATION

Lieut. Ormer Locklear, Famous Aviator-Acrobat, at the State Fair

Aviation's latest and greatest sensation, Lieut. Ormer Locklear, the internationally famous aviator-acrobat, who leaps from one plane to another in mid-air and performs other unbelievable stunts, will be the leading feature of an unusual entertainment program at the Minnesota State Fair, August 30 to September 6. Lieut. Locklear will perform his unparalleled act of jumping from one plane to another the first three days of the fair.

With this plane speeding through the air at a rate of eighty miles an hour, Locklear climbs past his pilot, worms his way under the wing and sits on the axle of the undercarriage. Here he waits until the other plane is flying about eight feet directly beneath him, when he hangs by his hands and lets go. He also reverses the act and climbs from the lower to the upper plane by means of a rope ladder. Locklear demonstrates his faith in the stability of his craft by climbing to all parts of the flying plane. His act is invariably performed at an altitude of less than five hundred feet so that the change of planes may easily be seen. He frequently scampers from one part of his plane to another at an altitude of less than a hundred feet.

Locklear was the star of the International Flying circus at Sheepshead Bay Speedway, New York City, last May. Before aviation experts of both continents at the Pan American Aviation Congress at Atlantic City in May he made the change of planes in a gale of puffy wind and won the admiration of the biggest men in attendance.

New Hupmobile Driven by Two Little Falls Young Men Damaged on Gull Lake Road

Driving at high speed, two Little Falls young men narrowly escaped death when their car, a brand new Hupmobile, took to the ditch as they tried to round the square corner at Sheard's on the Gull lake road about three miles from Brainerd. The corner is unbanked and can only be negotiated at moderate speed. The rear wheels were smashed and other damage done the car. It kept its balance, for had it turned turtle it would have smashed the occupants.

Frequent accidents and near-accidents at this square turn necessitates marking the road with a danger sign 200 feet from the curve such as mark similar places on the Walker road.

Austrians and Hungarians, except Austrian Poles and any persons claiming Czech-Slovak nationality, should renounce allegiance to "Austria Hungary or any independent state within the bounds of the former Austro-Hungarian Empire."

Russians should forswear allegiance to "Russia or any independent state within the bounds of the former Russian Empire."

The title of the present ruler of Bulgaria is "Boris, Czar of Bulgaria."

HE HAD SUCH A LOVELY TIME AT BRAINERD, HE DID!

(Duluth News Tribune)

Reminiscences of good times had in Brainerd while visiting his brother induced Little George Martin, age 10 years, 1502 London road, to buy a half fare ticket to that place after he had been picked up once before by Officer Danielson and given street car fare to his home.

George's plan was running as smoothly as he had prearranged. The 8:30 train for Brainerd was to leave on time; he had his ticket—what more could be wished? One thing interfered with his schedule, however. Officer Danielson made his second appearance in the same day and brought George to police headquarters.

George's big brother called for him, asked him if he was frightened, if he was hungry and how he felt otherwise, and then—the lad was escorted to his home.

ROLL OF HONOR

Frank Slipp, who enlisted in Canada in war service, was badly wounded and crippled in engagements and for a time not expected to live, has returned home to Brainerd. He made a record as a resourceful, courageous soldier unexcelled in heroic devotion to duty.

His evening subject will be concerning religious life in France. He recently returned from overseas where he spent ten months in war service with the rank of captain. Since returning he has been in demand for war lectures. He is spending two months' vacation with his family at Pelican lake.

Brainerd 6 3 .666

Ironton 5 5 .500

Verndale 4 5 .444

Brainerd 4, Verndale 2.

Behind that score is a story and it shows that the first jump may go to a team and still not bring victory.

Verndale led by Capt. A. F. Schuft, fell on Patterson's delivery in the very first inning and feasted on three hits and made two runs. To the thrifty ones who had placed little piking offerings on Brainerd, it looked as though some kale was going to be lost. Bill Sinclair moved uneasily in the grass and hunched up near the third base line. Mose DeRocher said it was warmer than when he was around France with the artillery corps.

"There goes your rep," said Doc Schuft to all Brainerd in general, in the middle of the first inning clash with that grim superiority the Verndalers assume when they got the bulge on the potato market or the baseball score. One experience with Brainerd in that regard not so very long ago with the final score 14 to 8, should have taught Verndale not to crow until the show was over.

In the first inning Heed fanned. Cadreau got a single, stole second and tore into little Billy Benda so that he spilled the ball and Cadreau continued on to third. Fox singled and brought in Cadreau. Gourd got a two-bagger and Fox romped across the plate. Gourd's offering went fanning over the fence. Pettit fanned. Things looked good for Verndale and the Verndale Sun editor, Mr. Bradford, promised the boys a seven-column head across the front of the page.

After that there was no more scoring, no matter how hard the potato belt "fellers" tried it.

In the first two innings Brainerd offerings were scooped up in the field, three in center and one in left field. In the third three men swung their bats and failed to connect.

In the fourth the hoodoo was lifted. Cook was the hero who puffed like a tugboat through the barrage of gloom and nailed a run. It happened like this:

Fuller flew out to the first baseman, Doc Schuft. Templeton fanned. Cook got to first and hit and bled to second on a passed ball. Benda's opportune hit brought in Cook.

In the fifth inning the score was tied and it was uphill work like loading coal down at John Larson's. Sheffo was the hero this time. He started his circuit by getting a walk to first. Patterson slammed one in to the grass back of second base and while the outfield was looking for the ball made third and brought Sheffo home.

In the seventh everybody came to bat except Richardson. Carlson and Sheffo led off with singles. Patterson sacrificed. Stallman walked and filled the bases. Fuller concluded he was due for a hit and brought in two runs. Templeton flew out to the catcher. Cook walked and again the bases were full and pandemonium raged or words to that effect. Benda went out, pitcher to first, and the inning was over.

In the ninth Verndale showed a flash of interest when Anderson, with two out, walked and stole a base. Gourd singled. A pinch hitter, Rundell, was put in, but he blew up, 1, 2, 3 out.

Notes of Game.

The game was remarkable because of the short time played in about an hour and 45 minutes. The assists were only 3 for Brainerd 5 for Verndale, the smallest number ever recorded on the field this season.

Benda, in the fourth, took an extension ladder plunge for the ether and stopped Bye's hit with one hand and caught the ball with his other mitt before he came back to earth.

In the eighth Heed's fly was raked in by Richardson in left field, who turned a few somersaults but kept the pill in his mitt.

Both sides growled about ball and strike decisions. At one period Doc Schuft got mad, left first base and sulked in his dugout, but eventually recovered his aplomb and renewed the game. During that seance Stall-man stole second and that got the Verndalers mad again.

Russian Army

By FRANK J. TAYLOR

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 28.—Creation of an enormous Red army, estimated by various authorities anywhere from two to four million men, under difficulties which have scarcely been equalled in history is a feat which the bolsheviks have accomplished. The Russian Red Army is a huge effective force closely bound to the political organization of the bolsheviks.

Trotsky, more than any other Russian, is the genius behind the Red Army. He has mobilized every man of military age at the present time, and spends his almost boundless energy going from front to front re-organizing and enthusing local leaders. Trotsky is Russia's "man of iron."

The bolsheviks have over-mobilized in the opinion of many who are informed as to the actual situation. This is probably a means of preventing unemployment and discontent, though ultimately it makes Russia's economic situation more difficult.

The bolsheviks feel confident that no outside army can take Moscow. Petrograd they fear. Its fall would be a tremendous moral blow to bolshevism, it is recognized by bolshevik leaders, but they hold that the economic problem confronting them would be materially improved, since they would be relieved of the responsibility for feeding Petrograd.

The problem confronting Field Marshal Trotsky is not manpower, but finding cannon and locomotives. Most of the soldiers have rifles, which they proudly display as American makes, but artillery to support the infantry is lacking. At present the bolsheviks make up for the shortage by dragging guns from one front to the other to meet attacks. This displays the food department, which is losing its transportation to the bolshevik war department.

First hand acquaintance with the bolshevik army soon convinces one that the Reds are not all the long-bearded, dirty barbarians as they are described in reports. The Reds, so far as the soldiers concern, impressed the United Press correspondent as being good-hearted, simple Russians who believe they are preventing their country from being invaded by foreigners.

The soldiers were always ready to fraternize and were never abusive. A cigar insured the friendship of any of them. The Russian soldier suffers from lack of cigars. He saves bits of newspapers or any other kind of paper, and rolls up anything that will smoke. "With a carload of American cigars judiciously used you could win over the whole Russian army," remarked one Russian.

The Russian Red has about the same ideas in mind as the soldiers of other lands. As soon as one singles out a man who can speak a language

Pulp, sulphide and paper mill workers of Brainerd have received an increase of wages from 5 to 10c per hour.

At the meeting there were remarks by President Burke and Manager McNair. President Burke spoke about the agreements. Mr. McNair made a nice talk. The local gave a rising vote of thanks to Pres. Burke and the committee for such a substantial agreement and also a rising vote of thanks to the management of The Northwest Paper Co. for the good spirit they had showed their employees.

Taking Another Guess.

Toledo Ohio—Business men in this city are taking another guess on their attitude toward the lockout of 16,000 Overland automobile employees who refused to lengthen their work day. When the lockout started the business men joined in the hue and cry against these unionists, but the lockout has been on for several weeks and bank deposits are shrinking and less commodities are being sold. Mr. Business Man is now beginning to inquire into "the facts of the case."

The strike has created an unusual condition—a federal judge issuing an injunction in which picketing is "regulated" and the company ordered to operate its plant. The court—Federal Judge Killets—has appointed a representative to see that this order is obeyed. The court official is now in control of the plant, which is filled with school boys and strikebreakers. Toledo trade unionists are assessing themselves 50 cents a week to aid the locked out, 1,000 of whom are women.

After 44-Hour Week

Indianapolis, July 28—The current issue of the Typographical Journal reports that the 44-hour week in all departments of book and commercial shops has been approved by the referendum by a vote of 24,389 for to 11,919 against. The executive council of the International Typographical union is instructed "to enter into an agreement with employers' organizations to provide nationally" for the 44-hour week.

New York rejected the plan by a vote of 5,656 to 618 and Chicago by a vote of 2,107 to 933. Both of these typographical unions are preparing for the earlier enforcement of the shorter work week.

"ENJOY YOUR HOME" MEANS

Haven't you often thought of a home with plenty of "breathing" space on all sides; screened front porch; commodious living room with a real fireplace; substantial woodwork and hardwood floors finished just the way you like; a sunshiny kitchen; airy bedrooms with plenty of closet space; a dining room that makes a good meal taste better—in fact, a house that you're proud to show to your friends.

You can have your home built just the way you like and there's really no reason why you shouldn't

We'll be glad to help you select the right design, to choose the materials that will prove most economical in the long run and to recommend reliable contractors to do the work.

We can show you, how easy it is to finance a home. There's no obligation when you come to us for suggestions.
